

QUIZ HELD FARCE IN SHEET ATTRIBUTED TO CAMERON

Senator King Says Arizonan Due for Punishment or Apology; Hunt May Testify

PHOENIX. Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—Denunciation of the campaign fund investigation being conducted here by Senator King of Utah as a farce is credited to Senator Ralph H. Cameron, who instigated the inquiry, in an anonymous circular called the "Slush Fund News" which was distributed widely here tonight.

The circular was issued, it was reported, from Senator Cameron's headquarters. When it was brought to the attention of Senator King, he announced that if Senator King made the statement, "he is due for punishment or a humble apology."

Indiana, the circular followed Senator Cameron's personal appearance as a witness at the inquiry, in which he failed to give any testimony substantiating his charges that large sums of money had been sent into California to influence eastern interests to bring about his defeat.

QUOTED IN CIRCULAR

Senator Cameron was quoted in the circular as stating that as much as $20,000 has been expended in Arizona "for the purpose of controlling the Colorado River for certain interests inimical to Arizona, and to keep foreign-produced copper on the free market."

Asserting the investigation has been made a farce, he is quoted further as declaring:

"I asked for this investigation in good faith. I did not expect however, that it would be conducted in a manner. It is clearly evident from the line of questioning propounded by Senator King, Democrat, sole remainder in the hearings, that he is trying to place to me on the record and no one else."

Complaint is made that Towles, a Cameron appointee, was presented from giving a lucid explanation of matters pertaining to campaign expenses, while Carl Hayden was treated with every consideration.

Copies of the publication were presented to Chairman King, just before the adjournment of the evening hearing. Senator King examined the article credited to Cameron and made open declaration "that Senator Cameron stated this, it is false and contemptible with utter disregard of the facts and the law."

Earlier in the evening the chairman had interrogated the Cameron aides on their principal's decision to sue the certain contractors in California and the West had found certain Arizona officials not acceptable to the commission. He said that the State officials re-ferred to be named in the circular said this later may be made known, nevertheless admitting that "we do not charge any particular officials."

This did not suit the examiner, who had announced that he would summon Gov. Hunt and all the more important State officials and run the charge down. Senator King again dictated a wire to Cornelius Kelly, president of the Copper Company of New York, advising Cameron's charges and asking for immediate reply. Cameron's attorneys protested this, demanding Kelly's personal appearance. The hearing was adjourned to tomorrow with expectation that Senator King will be in Los Angeles Wednesday morning, to take the testimony of the Californians named by Senator Cameron and Colorado River contractors against him. Later he will return to Arizona, to finish up the local end.

CAMERON BRIEF

Senator Cameron's testimony developed little worthy of especial note, unless it was his statement, "I never make promises."

Attorney Tom Flynn started to bring up the charges made by Senator Cameron of ulterior influences in the campaign, but was blocked promptly by the chairman, who stated that it would be preferable that Cameron be allowed to make his initiative to substantiate the charges he had made. If he failed to do so before the close of the hearing, it was eliminated, he would be interrogated on the matter by the committee. Cameron left the stand without preferring such testimony, even

Is THIS The Way To Start House Hunting?

There's no need to "go it blindly" when hunting a place to live in Los Angeles. Here and there all over the city are apartments, flats, houses and rooms for rent—and one of them is probably the place you have in mind. But to find it without a guide—ah, there's the problem!

Pick up the Los Angeles Times—turn to the "Rental" columns—and there you have a rental list, carefully compiled, which tells at a glance what is for rent, where, how big, and other information you naturally expect. Isn't that a much better way?

VOTING RECORD CUP AGAIN UP

State Association to Award a Prize to City Recording Heaviest Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO. Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—The California Development Association issued a statement today urging all citizens to vote, and pointing out that the association's "Good Citizenship Cup," will again be awarded to the city which polls the greatest proportion of its registered vote. The cup is held by the Chamber of Commerce of the winning city.

The circular was issued, it was reported, from Senator Cameron's headquarters. When it was brought to the attention of Senator King, he announced that if Senator King made the statement, "he is due for punishment or a humble apology."

Indiana, the circular followed Senator Cameron's personal appearance as a witness at the inquiry, in which he failed to give any testimony substantiating his charges that large sums of money had been sent into California to influence eastern interests to bring about his defeat.

IGNORANT OF DETAILS

Cameron declared repeatedly that he had no specific knowledge of the amount of his campaign, knew no details and did not know who had furnished the money on which it had been prosecuted. "I surely have," he said, "but I have no knowledge of how Mr. Smith obtained Senate lettersheads on which to address a letter to the public."

Then the Cameron attorneys took the stand and the defense got the grist. Chairman King expressed doubt whether the Colorado River really is an element in the investigation, but finally allowed the wedge question.

Then followed a question that was to decide what he knew of the conspiracy attack from the Golden State.

He said that last summer he had learned of the conspiracy.

Windy City Promoter After Lewis-Stecher Match

Rival Grapplers Made Offer of $75,000 for Bout

Doc Krone Figures Natural Will Draw Big Crowd

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—

Wangler Lewis, head-lock wrestling demon, had $75,000 dangled before his eyes today, a bid for him to come to the city and compete with Joe Stecher in a championship match. Doc Krone, veteran promoter, was trying to arrange the match to decide the heavyweight championship.

"The grappling game will continue as an indoor attraction this winter," said Krone. "Figures at recent fighting bouts will prove that."

Persson Drops Bout on Foul; Godfrey Wins

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (P)—Bud Persson of Kenosha, Wis., won on a foul in the fifth round of a ten-round bout at Madison Square tonight. Referee Jimmy Crowley disqualified Persson for hitting low after he felled the Swedish boxer in early rounds. Persson weighed 200 pounds and Gorman half a pound.

The bout was the final of the four ten-round matches not exciting in the first four rounds. The second round was decided in one minute and fifty-five seconds when Persson was sent to the corner. In the boxing during the first four rounds, Persson had been held by the referee to get their blows up, but Persson was warned in three of the first four rounds to refrain from questionable blows.

George Godfrey of Leipserville, Pa., defeated Jack Townsend of New York when Referee Jimmy Crowley stopped a bout in the sixth round of their ten-round bout at Madison Square. The bout was not boxing according to the rules. Godfrey weighed 201 1-2, Townsend, 191 1-2. Townsend submitted for Dr. Coebs of Galveston, Tex., who failed to pass the doctor's examination. The paid attendance was announced as 8528.

Georgia Kicks Out Eighteen Grid Players

ATHENS (Ga.), Nov. 1. (P)—Eighteen members of the University of Georgia's gridiron football team were indefinitely suspended from the team today by Coach Woodruff for violation of rules.

Among the charges against the players were late hours, "incorrigibility" and refusal to comply with training rules, Coach Woodruff said.

The suspension is regarded as a serious blow to Georgia's Southern Conference aspirations this season.

Harold and Eddie of Coliseum.

Polytechnic vs. Jefferson.

Franklin vs. L. A. High.

City League grid squads will start the second half of their schedule next Friday afternoon with three struggles carded for the fourth round of play. Polytechnic and Hollywood, bittersweet rivals since the American brand of football was first placed rugby as the popular means of bunting houses in City League days, hook up at the Coliseum in the feature struggle of this week's schedule.

Another game that is attracting little attention, despite the fact that it is being played to be a walk-away, is the Manualites' bittersweet Poly machine and Coach Dave Fryer's Democrats, who provided last week's upset by thumping Hollywood, 20 to 0. The game is on the program Friday. L. A. High and Franklin clashing on Housh Field in what should be a fairly even game with the Romans reigning slight favorites.

Coach Vic Kelley's Foothillers will no doubt enter the Manual game in a fighting frame of mind for that defeat at Jefferson's hands is still ranking Hollywood's entry.

Hollywood entered the Democratic game in a somewhat overconfident condition and as a result took a trimming that is liable to lose them a chance for the championship. To win the title now the Foothillers must thumb all of their opponents.

Coach Jim Blewett's Toilers, following a 7-to-8 score in the Franklin game last week, know that they must defeat Hollywood to remain in the title running. A 7-to-7 tie with Lincoln at the start of the season puts a stain on the Manual record and makes it imperative that the Toilers go through the rest of the game without a setback.

So, the Manual game is summed up, the Hollywood-Manual battle will eliminate one of the three elevens left in the running for the championship. If that fact doesn't make the Manualites battle we can't think of anything that will.

The Mechanics will be without the services of Capt. Eddie Griffiths, who is out with a broken hand, against Jefferson, but they played without their leader throughout the second half of the Manual game and were able to roll up 20 points, so there really should be no cause for moaning at Poly. Brennan has a host of good substitutes and will probably start speedy Norm Elser in Griff's place.

Franklin showed unexpected strength against Manual last week and may be able to upset L. A. High. The Romans lost their star guard and coach Stew Philip, who was ruined playing against the Roman alumna last Friday in a practice game.

Coach Van Pelt's Lincoln Rall-splinters, who have yet to win a league game, draw a bye this week.

BROWN TO PLAY PASADENA GAME

Hollomberg has a fast, scrappy team with a sensational plowing and passing attack, and the loss of one game will not offset the sentiment attached to the battle between Washington State and Brown.

In the first East-West classic Washington State defeated Brown in a great 14-to-0 game at old Memorial Park. The game was played yesterday and Frits Pollard, Brown's all-American end, colored halfback, was unable to shine offensively, the heavier backs of the States plowing through the Brown line for a pair of touch downs.

This year Brown appears to have some worthy successors to the stars brought west eleven years ago. George — is fine line plunger, Mishel — good running back, Fandall a splendid receiver. Gurney a star tackle and the rest of the team is said to be right up to snuff.

Brown's record to date this year follows:

R. L. State 8
Colo 8
L. A. High 9
Poly 9

Lincoln 9

Among the "Football Stars of Other Days" is Eddie Mahan of Harvard, a big-jawed, lovable "tornado in moccasins," who started for three years at Cambridge on the gridiron and on the diamond. There are many stories of his prowess as an all-around player. Eddie could kick, pass and receive passes, and run and tackle, and he was an inspired leader, who was loved by his team-mates and admired and respected by his opponents.

Harvard would like to have Eddie back now! He is and his two side-mates, "Tuck" and "Chum," made plenty of gridiron history in 1915 and '16. Their combination of skill, dash, run through a broken field, interfere, tackle, pass and kick field goals made them almost a whole team in themselves. Those were the days of the famous "house-poses" that went something like this:

As It Might Have Been

SIR WALTER RALEIGH was only because there is a fragrant supply in the little old joy-pipe to take its place. Ain't it the life? You'll say so. Oh, Sir Walter! Oh, man!" The strange figure from the future vanished, dissolved in blue vapor. Sir Walter Raleigh shook himself, blinked, and looked at the pipe which an Indian had given him. "Oh, man!" Jam the little old joy-pipe to the rim with the honking goodness of a contented man and take a long human's pull. It's dollars to doughnuts to tell the world you never knew what peace and happiness were before. Lean back. Shut the little old eyes in ecstasy. Let the joy-smoke trickle along the tongue. Blow it out gently, reluctantly, and So saying, he filled his pipe with strong soapsuds and began blowing bubbles instead. A. H. F.

CAUSE FOR LIFE'S "MISCASTS" FOUND BY SCIENTIST

Failures—family, social and business—are the direct results of definite physical causes, according to recent findings of scientists. All migrants and confirmed wanderers, irresponsible radicals, eccentrics, hermits, pathological histrionics, inventors, and most criminals in the great family of being miscast for the roles of life. Chemical imbalance in the blood may be, at least in part, due to heredity. Yet normalization of the blood alone is all that is necessary.

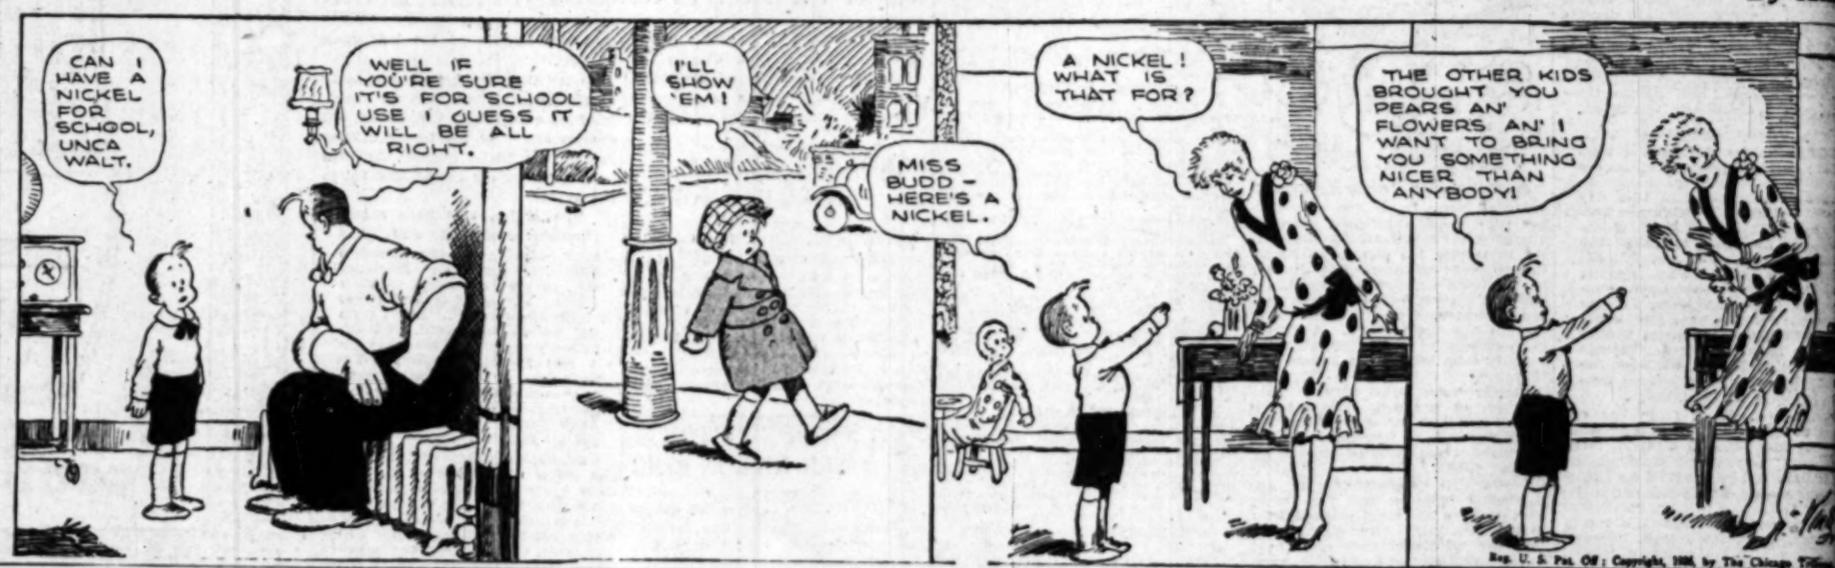

In his book, which has created a profound sensation, "Prolongation of Human Efficiency," Dr. Clayton E. Wheeler, noted endocrinologist of Los Angeles and San Francisco, tells of some of the results attained in the 12,000 plane operations he performed.

Bad hormone balance irritates the nervous system, which in turn further upsets the ductless glands with the result that they proceed to function still more abnormally.

Many mystifying human ailments have a definite source and in Dr. Wheeler's treatise causation is clear and understandable. A copy may be had by calling, or send for 12s in postage. Research Dept., Dr. Clayton E. Wheeler, 2173 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles.

RUSSIAN TRAVEL FULL OF DANGER

Visitors Warned Against Any Dress Clothes

Secret Police Interrogate Hotel Guests

Press Muzzled on Affairs of Government

HILTON U. BROWN
MOSCOW, Oct. 8. (By Mail) (Exclusive)—When I went into Russia I solicited and received much advice. The burden of it was that it was foolish to take the chances involved in going into a soviet country which the United States has not recognized officially, and with which they are diplomatic relations. I was told that in case of trouble I would have no one to whom to appeal, and the first and only word of my friend would get through that my action had been foolish in taking it. To the reply that the British or German consults might intercede I was reminded that there were seven German consults in Russia, and as for the British they were about as popular as a German in Scotland during the war. I was also told that if I was found enough to be going, the goods I ask for to go with dress clothes or anything else indicating that I belonged to the bourgeoisie. This part of the advice was accepted and took to Russia only with a few simple wearings, appearing including a heavy overcoat and ample articles. I discarded my European hat and wore a cap that had seen better days.

I found that among all my advisers there was one who was a Czech in Indiana, knew more than the rest. He said he had even taken a dinner coat into Russia and dressed as he would have dressed in any other land, and there were no difficulties. The only dinner coats that I saw in Russia, however, were those worn at diplomatic dinners given by the British and other foreign officials. At these there was no difficulty, but when turned out in great array, though I have my suspicions that they carefully concealed white shirts en route to the dinner. As an American I was treated with suspicion, and though I tried not to go to Tzaristan because of local objections there.

The Russian dress includes the Russian shirt and belt of a pattern not worn in America, and a heavy coat with a wide collar. To mild weather answers for coat, shirt and vest; the headgear is always a cap, generally with a short visor. I found no objection anywhere to taking pictures, but there is a law that requires that pictures be developed in Russia and that films may not be taken out. This is another law which is vigorously enforced that threatens strangers with trouble and that relates to exchange. This is a criminal offense to exchange money or rubles with the government which approximates 50 cents to the ruble. It can be bought in Riga or any place outside of Russia for less, but rubles may not be lawfully taken out of the country.

On the other hand there is the press. In the field of fiction Russia is almost unique in that writers must keep off politics, unless they are writing Communistic politics. Thousands of political pamphlets are printed by the state and are sold gratis for sale at state book stores maintained by the state. These are said to be 600 newspapers in Russia, but not one of them is free. Not one of them dare prints the news. Their price is 10 cents, to be paid by the agency created for the purpose and held responsible by higher ups. There are notable exceptions, as in the case of the forty "hooligans" at Lenin's funeral. The news media are controlled by the state. Papers were allowed to print anything and everything they pleased about it. Numerous communications were published denouncing "hooliganism" in such terms that it could not be known for whom they were directed. There was no law providing the death penalty for such a crime, but the demand for the execution of the "hooligans" was universal, and the executioners said that as they had some latitude the law probably could be made comprehensive and flexible enough to cover this case. The conclusion could not be avoided that the executioners were permitted to discuss all cases of new merit the atmosphere would be cleared and the way to freedom opened.

Russia is one of the reserve places on the earth where man has been battling for centuries but where space and resources are so vast that there is still much primitive. To give the involved Indonesians hope by recognizing the government would injure and not aid her people for she needs to find herself first. She begins to see that while her friends hope means that man day by day, she must be patient and must right herself. Politics alone, whether communistic, republican or monarchical, does not make people great. The more the spirit of government and hope. One of Russia's historians has said "that the future will be great, make the matter of time, but hardly doubt it. She must day by day by unmasking the press and placing all her people on a basis of equality.

PROSECUTOR AND JUDGE

In a previous article I have quoted an official who was a member of what we would call the Cabinet as saying that the secret police were a necessity, just as Scotland Yard or American secret service officers are believed to be necessary. However, there is this difference. The cheka is not only a police force, but is a prosecutor and judge. The American secret service officers work confidentially and lead to the arrest and prosecution of offenders, but the courts try the cases. In Russia the case is secret from be-

PROFESSOR "RESIGNS"

Head of Washington University Says Continuance Undesirable

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 1. (P)—A. H. B. Jordan of Everett, president of the University of Washington, recently declared today that Carl F. Gould, professor of architecture, "was not removed," but "has resigned."

David Thomas who was appointed acting president of the university after Dr. Henry Suzuki was suspended, has been removed. He had announced that "the board of regents felt that Gould's continuance as a member of the faculty was in violation of a certain statute and that the continuance of the man he should not be a member of the faculty." Thomas said Gould "terminated his resignation effective Dec. 31."

CONTINENT FEARED SINKING

Experts May Spend Quarter of Century in Study of North American Shore Line

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (P)—Experts this week will begin work that may require twenty-five years to finish and the goal of which is to determine whether the North American continent is sinking at the rate of between one-eighth and one-fourth of an inch each year.

Many geologists believe the continent is subsiding at a rate of one to two feet a century, and the scientific studies will be made along the Atlantic Coast, with tide gauges, in Jamaica Bay at Eastport, Me., and at St. John, N. B.

Prof. Douglas W. Johnson of Columbia University announced today that the committee of shore line investigation of the national research council, had completed plans for its investigation at the three points.

A committee of three scientists in investigation on the Pacific Coast has been formed by the National Research Council.

THEORY OF EARTH RISE AND STUDY

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) Nov. 1. (P)—The Yale Observatory is engaged in testing the theory that the surface of the earth rises and falls from time to time, causing a change in the rapidity of rotation of the earth.

Through this information, according to Prof. Frank Schiavenger of Yale University, who describes the work in the Yale Daily News, the scientists are able to determine the movements of the North Pole and indirectly much valuable information concerning the interior of the earth.

"Times" Daily Short Story

"And Then I'll Be Happy"

By ZONA

HE SAW A YOUTH THAT LOOKED UP AT HIM WITH AN EXCESS OF VISIBLE COMPASSION.

WALKING one day in a suburb, Bellard, wearing clothes in the extreme of the fashion, was torn by the look of a house on whose porch he had just passed. Near the street sat a shabby man of 60, without a coat, and reading a newspaper. This man's fate seemed terrible: The unpainted house, the disordered hall, the glimpse of a woman in an apron. But Bellard turned up and smiled at Bellard as brightly as if he himself had been young.

Bellard meant to be a financier. Instead he shortly endured his father's bankruptcy, left college, found no congenial employment, obtained the trials of a drifter, married her and lived in a little flat.

But this girl had the quality of a flower. Bellard could not explain it, but she was silent and fragrant and beautiful like a flower. Once in April when he saw a pair of lilies in the valley blooming on the pavement, he thought: "They're like Lucile. They're all doing their utmost." In her presence it was impossible to be discreet, for she would go home from the rope.

Those escaping were F. A. Fisher, asserted forger; Henry Mitchell, auto thief; auto-accessories thief; and Henry Johnson, serving a sentence of six months and $500 fine on liquor charges.

STATE LOSES WORKER

Chief Engineer of Railway Board Resigns to Take Private Post

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1. (P)—

United States District Judge Kerrigan

has today ruled that no liquor which had been illegally seized by the government and returned to its owner by the court may be seized again by the government by any government agent on any of the evidence on which the first seizure was based.

Morgan, San Francisco had sued successfully for the return of a quantity of liquor taken from his premises by Federal prohibition agents, on the ground that his constitutional rights had been violated.

The liquor was seized by the internal revenue office while it was being returned to Morgan's home under guard of a deputy United States marshal.

Judge Kerrigan ruled today that the second seizure was as illegal as the first and set at naught the order of the court returning the liquor. He again ordered it restored to Morgan.

Two new engineers were like all admirable children, and Bellard and Lucile went through the reverence, anxiety and joy of their upbringing. And whether the moment yielded a torn frock or a bare knee, crop or a moral crisis, Lucile seemed to put up with it without a murmur and not be overwhelmed by it. "She has genius for being alive," Bellard thought.

As she grew older she was not so beautiful, but she was many women better and more. But when they chattered, pointed, when they were cynical, bored, critical, hilarious, he thought about Lucile and her silence, her frankness, her hope. Hope of what? She said that they would be all probability, however, have more than they had now. When he asked her wistfully what kept her so happy, she replied with an air of wonder, "You."

One day he overheard her talking with a friend, and he was saying: "Other men live in things and events and emotions and the future. He seems to know that living is something else."

"What else?" this friend interrupted, and he heard Lucile say: "Well, of course, everyone knows, really. But he lives it, too."

"The not good enough for her," Bellard thought, and tried his best to make up for it.

They went on like this for years, the children grew up, married, came home and patronized them. Then Bellard, who had established a little business, failed. His son tried to take over the business, found it impossible, and assumed control, berating his father.

His daughter came home with her three children, and filled the flat with clamor and turbulence. She said: "Mother, I think we should have a maid."

"I'm glad you're going to hire one," said Lucile absently.

Her exasperated daughter cried: "But what are you going to live on?"

Bellard heard that his daughter was responsible for three of us for quarter of a century, you know, dear." At this Bellard rose on strong wings and felt himself still able to brook the clamor and the night.

Bellard had rented a little house in the suburb. There they rented a little house and Bellard went into a real estate office.

All day he showed land and houses to men who wanted something better for less money. At night he went home, and there was Lucile—less like a flower, but still silent, fragrant, hopeful. He said to her: "You'll never have anything more than you have now, Lucile; but you're never like this world."

She replied: "I don't want anything more to dust and take care of."

Once he said: "When you were a girl you dreamed that you'd have things different, didn't you, Lucile?"

"I'm the happy one, you know," he thought: "This is what the world is dying for."

One spring, when he was 60, he was sitting in his own little porch on the street. The house was small and unpainted, the hall disordered with housecleaning: Lucile in an apron was in the doorway.

He never lost his eyes, and saw walking by the girl, with her clothes in the extreme of fashion: a youth who looked up at him with an excess of visible compassion.

On this youth Bellard looked down

Youthful ProphecyTells of Influence Exerted by GrandmotherLad's First Education Came From WoodboxMARION (O.) Nov. 1. (P)—Recalls the son who preceded him to the grave all the declining years of Dr. George Harding, the only living father of a President."He of body, but with his 82-year-old mind alert, the parent of Warren G.
Harding sits in the house which has been his home here for forty-two years and appraises for those who have come to see him the qualities of greatness which lifted his boy from an Ohio farm to the White House."They're ringing for Washington Some day they will ring for me," that was the prediction made by Warren Harding at the age of 5, as he heard the bells chimed in memoriam to the first President, the father he had seen tell-filled.

GRANDMOTHER'S INFLUENCE

Today he is in a world gone by, his life filled with interesting incidents, years forgotten, in the life of his illustrious son. And any review by Dr. Harding of the life of his President son begins with the statement that the mother's influence in it was "the wonderful teaching and inspiration received from his mother and his grandmother.""Value of study, industry, kindness, loyalty and discretion taught by his mother in every boyhood were tenets followed faithfully," Dr.
Harding remarked, musing the other day about his son. "That calling for tender treatment of enemies often brought him criticism."The President's first effort at public speaking is an incident which Dr.
Harding takes great pleasure in telling. "It was while I was teaching the Buckhorn Inn school. Neighbors and students were gathered in the country schoolhouse. I had just delivered an address when Warren called out and said: 'President, I want to speak also.' There was no dissuading him.
He recited a five-stanza poem, taught him by his grandmother. That was fifty-eight years ago this coming Wednesday.""Warren's first idea of education was received at a woodbox in the kitchen of the Harding Blooming Grove home. He would sit by the box, making out words from the printed letters on the newspapers which his mother had pasted on the box to make it appear less untidy."Grandmother Elizabeth Madison Harding was responsible for the advice naming their son 'Warren Gamaliel' after an uncle, a Methodist preacher."Here Dr. Harding told how Warren came to earn the name "Warren" from wood for a neighbor, later raising eighteen bushels of wheat on an abandoned potato patch, and still later, while not yet 13 years of age, working as a teamster in the construction of the Toledo and Ohio Central Railroad."Warren always was an easy writer and speaker. He knew what he wanted to say, and when he appeared to be at a loss for him to express himself in writing or orally.

INTEREST IN POLITICS

"While still in his teens, Warren took unusual interest in politics, and made many speeches before he was 21.
He was unusually successful in his political ventures, and as proof of his popularity stood in his own district as among its residents, it should be remembered that he carried it 100 per cent at the Presidential election."He always gave presents, when he could not think of anything to buy me, he would give me money.
The last present he gave me was a box for $100. This was a day or two before he left for the White House.""His love for his friends was unusual. He would stick with them after all. He had been dead for virtually every one else. I am certain that none of Warren's friends could influence him on an opinion or decision which he knew to be right."New Rumanian

MURDER CASE NEARING END

State Introduces Rebuttal at Minister's Trial

Batter Story of Priest Told in Testimony

Defense Seeks to Convict State's Star Witness

SANTA ANA, Nov. 1.—Waning toward its close, the trial of the Rev. Philip A. Goodwin, charged with murdering Joseph J. Patterson, today found the prosecution battering away at the supports beneath the defense, seeking to destroy the barriers that the priest had built around himself with his remarkable story of the Patterson case last week.

After completing the cross-examination of Goodwin when court resumed, today, the prosecution started its rebuttal, and in the defendant's testimony, the defense having rested its case when the priest left the stand, about half an hour after court opened. Several rebuttal witnesses called to impeach portions of Goodwin's story.

Three blows were struck at vital points of the defense today, one consisting of evidence showing that Goodwin had received $1,000 in oil stock owned by Patterson from the office of Harry Jones, Los Angeles stock broker.

Goodwin testified that he received the $1,000 from W. F. Parker, Los Angeles banker. Another hit of testimony damaging to the defense, it was thought, was offered when Chief Deputy District Attorney C. E. Moxley, who had stood, and testified that it is a conversation at the District Attorney's office following the arrest of Goodwin, the priest denied that he had ever handled any Julian oil stock of Patterson's.

At the trial, Goodwin testified that he had sold the Julian stock, but that he had handled it for Alton Goss, his attorney. Another hit of testimony, which was that Goodwin and Goss had gone alone on the San Diego trip, which the prosecution contended ended with the murder of Patterson, came when the priest, said Moxley, denied that the shooting began, Hernandez and Castenay were left wounded on the ground.

They were removed to the hospital by Hernandez. Goss was the first man arrested, but when taken to the Santa Paula jail he persisted in "knowing nothing" about the shooting. Finally, however, he admitted to the court that he had participated in the fight and indicated that he and the shooting began, Hernandez and Castenay were left wounded on the ground.

Goodwin testified today that, following the arrest of Goodwin, he, Goss, had not been with either Goss or Patterson on the San Diego trip. Goodwin at that time said, according to the witness, that he had handled the Julian stock that Goodwin had handled was Edison Company stock. The priest, said Moxley, denied that.

The defense fought the prosecution over every inch of the ground covered this morning. Attorney Gould, prompted frequently by Goodwin, picked and sliced at many points of the stand.

Moxley was the particular target of the defense barbs, especially when the prosecutor was reading into the record testimony given by the necessary witness, Mrs. Clark, former secretary for Harry Jones, the stock broker.

The girl had since married and gone to Europe for her honeymoon, so that the defense could not bring him into court to testify at the trial. The testimony as read by Moxley, was that she had given Goodwin the checks for the Patterson stock, which he had given to the priest's child, but he got the checks from Patterson. At various intervals Goodwin protested that Moxley was misreading the testimony. Each time the defense lawyer would cut out the story after his daughter, sitting beside him, and following the reading closely, would call his attention to it.

Once or twice the defense could not bring him into court to testify at the trial. The testimony as read by Moxley, was that she had given Goodwin the checks for the Patterson stock, which he had given to the priest's child, but he got the checks from Patterson. The attendance is expected to exceed 400. E. J. Hauser, nationally known publicist, expert of the Fontana Fair, is the first president of the new club.

Poilus Wanted as Guides to Battlefields

PARIS, Nov. 1. (Exclusive)—With the return of Col. Picot from the United States where he was the French envoy to the American Legion convention, the French veterans are starting a far-reaching propaganda campaign to induce the French residents to give the American Legion members such a reception at next year's Legion convention here as to make them forget about the unpaid bills, rates of exchange, and other unpleasant topics.

The government is supporting this movement strongly in the belief that the improved Legion will become a powerful force for bettering the United States in its dealing with France. Officials will use every effort to prevent petty professors, politicians and hotel keepers, of which the Yankees complained during the war.

The government will be allowed to keep the heavy loading of permises it has not kept in a single day of the campaign for any commodity, according to a statement issued yesterday by Donald D. Conn, manager car

FREIGHT TRAIN SCHEDULE CUT

Fast Service to Arizona is Inaugurated by Espee

Business Day Saved Between Los Angeles and Phoenix

Move of Benefit to Growers and Shippers Generally

Inauguration of a new fast freight train schedule that will save a business day in the delivery of supplies from Los Angeles to Phoenix and other points on the company's new main line in Arizona was announced here yesterday by George C. Clark, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific. The new service went into effect yesterday.

Railroad officials pointed out that the new fast freight service should be as much benefit in increasing business to and from Los Angeles as will be the new sixty-three-hour passenger train service between this city and Clarkdale, which becomes effective on the 14th inst.

Under the new freight schedule, a Phoenix fast freight train will leave Los Angeles at 10 a.m. daily, arrive there the following afternoon and reach Phoenix at 8 a.m. the second morning, ready for the spotting of cars on spur tracks for unloading when required. In time for the day's work, Westbound, the train will leave Phoenix at 6 p.m. with freight from that city and Salt River, and will arrive in Los Angeles early the second morning.

This will be a thirty-three hour schedule between Los Angeles and Phoenix, with a corresponding fast service to and from the new Southern Pacific line in Arizona.

"Completion of our new main line through the Salt River Valley of Arizona has given the Southern Pacific this opportunity to aid in increasing trade relations between Southern California and Arizona," Mr. Clark said.

"This saving of a business day in the transportation of freight to and from this important section of Arizona will be of great benefit to growers and shippers, and undoubtedly will prove a big stimulus to trade between Los Angeles and these Arizona communities."

BROADWAY FINANCING ON MARKET

Other Industrial, Public Utility and Real Estate Offerings Announced

Six real estate, industrial and public-utility bond issues, aggregating nearly $12,000,000, are being offered in this market, according to reports from investment houses.

David R. Peirce & Co. is offering $8,000,000 Broadway Improvement Store, Inc., fifteen-year 6 per cent sinking-fund debentures, the proceeds of which will be used to finance the construction of the company's new building at 1200 Broadway.

From another point of view, the tenor of mass psychology may suggest a significant thought to the speculator. The public may decide, in time, to curtail the buying of cotton goods. When this development appears, the sales of department stores, which are the chief buyers of cotton, indicate the trend. Or, if the tendency of the public is to heed the longing for luxuries and riotous living, it will offer a stimulus to the banking houses, which will probably issue first preferred stock. This stock, which carried common-stock purchase warrants privately at 99, was priced at 99 a share, an accrued dividend to yield more than 7.04 per cent.

An issue of $3,225,000 first-mortgage 5½ per cent gold bonds, Series A, of the New Rochelle Water Company, is being offered by F. W. Chapman & Co. The bonds are to bear interest to yield 6½ per cent.

The company supplies water for domestic, municipal and industrial purposes to New Rochelle, N. Y., and adjacent towns.

The first financing in this market for building construction in Europe since the war comes in the form of an issue of $1,500,000 twenty-year 7 per cent bonds of the Housing, Realty and Improvement Company of Germany, offered by the Foreign Trade Corporation, Ltd., of New York City.

Offering of new issue of $3,000,000 of 7 per cent general-mortgage bonds of the Broadway Building, New York City, is being made by Robert Maynard & Co. at par and interest to yield 6.50 per cent.

Maynard & Co. are frequently made to us that such embellishments and defalcations are brought about by a desire to live up to false standards of one's friends or neighbors or to participate in a social life not within one's means.

A study of the motives behind many crimes of this sort leads us to believe that these two causes are very often evident.

Speculators, however, for speculation and business these tendencies may not carry much weight now, but they have all the earmarks of potential growth to that position of authority.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Stock prices drifted within rather narrow and irregular limits in today's curb market. There was the usual speculative coming-up of accounts on the eve of the election, with the public apparently taking little part in the day's proceedings.

Strength and activity of some of the high-grade oil issues in the face of a decrease in certain grades of Texas crude prices, and one of the few distinguishing features of the session. Standard Oil of Indiana, which has been fluctuating within a narrow range for weeks, advanced 1.3-8 points to $41 1/2. Tidewater moved 10 points to a high of 27 1/2. Gulf Oil, preferred (New) jumped nearly 10 points on a few odd-lot sales to 45.

Resumption of the upward movement in New York stocks, which climaxed 30 points to a new high of 64 1/2, and the establishment of a new peak by General Electric of Germany at 44 attracted widespread attention in the industrial section.

Most stocks, however, showed mixed change. DeForest Radio also developed a sudden burst of activity and strength.

The public-utility group, the Standard Electric Bond and Share and Mohawk Hudson Power contracted with the heaviest of American Gas and Electric, and Commonwealth Edison.

Other officers elected were Dr. Martin N. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles.

The joyous reception left the young orator breathless, but it was he, declared as he addressed his audience, that he never will forget.

WHOLE SCHOOL OUT

"It is difficult to make a speech," he declared. "The expression of your appreciation and friendship leaves me almost breathless."

JOE CRAN CERTAIN

Joe Cran, Republican nominee for Congress in the Tenth District, also was given the Democratic nomination and is expected to win by more than 20,000 votes.

The re-election of Sen. Shortridge is deemed certain, those in charge of his campaign predicting that he will defeat the Democratic candidate.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of reproduction of all news credited to it or to any of its member papers, and also to all local news published here within.

The Times aims at all times to be accurate in every publication, and will be glad to receive any important discrepancy of statement will care a favor by calling attention of the Editorial Department to the error.

IN THE SWIM
Gertrude Ederle has moved from her modest home in Amsterdam Avenue in New York to an $18,000 home in aristocratic Pelham.

SAVAGE LEADER
Howard Savage was elected the new commander of the American Legion. The doughboys show considerable discrimination in the choice of names to head their fighting forces.

CRUEL SLANDER
It's an awful slander to say that a lot of our modern best-sellers are nothing but the old-fashioned dime novels with fancy bindings—an awful slander on the old-fashioned dime novels, that is.

NEEDED STORE
A shoebill stock has been imported from Africa. Well, we certainly need some baby shoebills in this country, for most of those we've been getting lately are mighty full grown as to size—especially those for infants' shoes.

FEW POWERS
A correspondent wants to know why France will not pay her debts to this country, the age of Queen Marie and who started the Chinese war and why. For authentic information on these matters it will be necessary to await the reports of Will Rogers.

BIG HELP
This country spent more than $141,- 000,000 for cosmetics last year. Well, cosmetics are a great help. A few dime's worth of cosmetics, added to natural vanity and partial blindness to one's own defects, has made many a girl satisfied with her looks.

COUNTERFEITS
Ten persons are accused of fraud in connection with the sale of pie and sandwich machines. We know nothing of the merits of this case, but we've eaten many a lunch-counter sandwich and piece of pie the makers of which ought to have been accused of fraud.

SUSPICIOUS OMISSION
The latest report of the state railroads of soviet Russia show a slight excess of receipts over expenditures. The freight traffic between Leningrad and Moscow has been picking up of late. But nothing is reported as to the business between Omsk and Tomsk.

HINT TO IBANEZ
A Blasco Ibanez is still hot on the trail of the Spanish government, but all the scorching articles he cooks up in his Paris exile have not succeeded in making a single dent in it. Why doesn't he send the Four Horsemen through the streets of Madrid and stir things up a little?

IMPOSSIBLE
Fortune-tellers in Long Beach are complaining bitterly against the ordinance compelling them to pay $200 a year license.
Can it be possible that they, who so readily tell others where and how to dig up vast fortunes, are not all so rich themselves that a mere bagatelle like that can worry them?

GARLAND'S GIFT GONE
In 1922 the eccentric Charles Garland, son of James Garland, Boston millionaire, inherited $500,000 from his father's estate.
He forthwith began to give it away. But $14,000 yet remains. Almost all went to finance radical movements. He will likely be asking for a hand-out later or from those who have been thrifty enough to save.

INDISPENSABLE
If one really gets down to the simple life it will be found quite easy to dispense with a great many things that are now considered by the average man and woman to be absolutely necessary to human comfort and convenience. But what in the world would a columnist do if there were no such people as Scottsmen?

STOLE A BASE
It has taken Pennsylvania a long time to find out that professional baseball is a "worldly employment" and, therefore, not to be played on Sunday. The reformers have stolen a base and scored in the first inning, but just wait until the matter is taken up by the supreme tribunal of the State. The umpire writing the decision may put the blue-law upholders down for no hits, no runs and several big errors.

TOO EXACTING
Enjoining the young women of the present age to be more tolerant of the ideas of their forbears, Bessey Bearden, president of the Women's Democratic League, said in a New York address: "The modern girl makes a great mistake when she breaks with the past altogether." But, Bessey, when the said modern girl goes to a movie show isn't she to be allowed just one little laugh when she sees on the screen the puffed sleeves and picture hats of the gay 'nineties?"

GETTING EVEN
Our boys came back from Europe with cigarettes in their mouths. However, they evened matters up: Europe has started to chewing gum.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY
The American Federation of Labor faces one of the greatest opportunities that has ever come to it. The organization has decided to hold its annual convention in Los Angeles next fall.

Conventions nowadays are held for the purposes of gathering and exchanging ideas making for the improvement of methods and conditions. If the convention comes here for such a purpose a real revelation is in store for it.

Organized labor's leaders will have the opportunity, while here, to find out why the open shop has for more than thirty years resisted union labor's strongest effort to close it.

The union delegates will see, upon their arrival, a city which, proportionate to size, has led the world in volume of construction work during the last six or seven years. They will see a city, ranking in the ten largest in the United States, which scarcely knows the literal meaning of the word "strike."

Organized labor will find in Los Angeles upward of 40,000 mechanics in the construction industry, who recognize no labor boss and sell their skill according to their ability to produce. The American Federation of Labor will find here a city with upward of 6000 manufacturing establishments, without a single "sweat shop."

Good light, pure air, climate conditions which give the artisan more working days in the year than he can have anywhere else; wages which compare favorably with those paid anywhere, absolute freedom from union domination, as well as immunity from strikes and lockouts—a free city.

Our highways teem with automobiles owned by prosperous working men. Los Angeles has more home-owning working men than any other city in the country.
If the American Federation of Labor is going to hold its next convention in Los Angeles for the benefit of American labor it might profitably dedicate the entire convention period to a study of how it is done in Los Angeles.

CHICAGO, THE MALIGNED Hotly resenting the many recent attacks upon its city as vice-ridden, gangstered and rum-ruined, the press of Chicago is making it appear that that great urban center has been much maligned. Indeed, this would seem to be the case, judging by the municipal records of recent months and the present conspicuously able administration of local affairs.
The record of this administration is held up to admiration by the Chicago Tribune as "one of the cleanest in city history."

Chicago, ignominiously labeled "the great crime center," has been the butt of the paraphrasers and the target of the reformers.

Action on Objections to Proposed Improvement Continued by Council

SUIT TRIAL OF MERRITT CONTINUED

Delay of Two Days for Husband to Enable Him to Gather Evidence

Delay of the divorce suit of Mrs.

Lou Merritt, Pasadena society woman, against her millionaire husband, Huett C. Merritt, Jr., was continued yesterday by Judge Keefer to tomorrow owing to the absence of Merritt and his attorneys.

It was reported Merritt and his attorney, C. D. Keeler, of San Francisco, in connection with the compilation of testimony to be introduced by Merritt as a defense, were to meet the committee arranged by Hollywood Boulevard and Ninth street on the north and south of Hoover street and Argus street on the east and west and an intercepting sewer for the district lying between Argus street and for the outlet one mile to the north. The original sewer in this area was taken up to the building up of the territory and manholes have overflowed during the winter season.

The sewer, which now seems assured in time, will extend from the test site, will extend along Venice Boulevard and will be nearly six miles in length. The pipe will vary from eighteen to thirty-three inches in size. It has been designed to act as a relief sewer for the committee arranged by Hollywood Boulevard and Ninth street on the north and south of Hoover street and Argus street on the east and west and an intercepting sewer for the district lying between Argus street and for the outlet one mile to the north. PASTORS ARGUE ON BIBLE STUDY

Amendment No. 17 Discussed Before City Club

Methodist Upholds Teaching Religion in Schools

Rabbi Scores Shifting Church Duties to Classroom

Arguments for and against the reading of the Bible in public schools were voiced at the City Club yesterday by Rev. William S. Fleming of the Methodist church at Chicago; go and Rabbi Louis I. Newman of Temple Emanuel, San Francisco.

"Prior to 1870, the Bible, which is responsible for our civilization, was used in nearly every school in America. Not now but by custom," said Mr. Fleming. "Then that great Book was overused out of our schools by atheists and sectarianists. For fifty years we trained the intellects of our children with little regard to moral and spiritual development—with the tragic results that cannot longer be ignored. The great object in the attempt to remove the Bible from the schools is to help restore moral normality to our nation, and we can't have morality without a religious basis."

"We force the Bible upon our just and other public schools upon our country, and upon principals and even insane persons," said Mr. Fleming. "In the name of humanity, let us give our teachers an opportunity to impart the great principles of the Bible to the children who will be our American citizens of tomorrow."

Declaring that the provisions of Amendment No. 17, and subversive of the idea upon which the American public-school system is based, Dr. Newman said the great need today is to abolish prejudice and misunderstanding, not "to develop moral and increase disinterestedness."

Answering his opponent's statement to the effect that there are many towns in this State without churches, Dr. Newman said:

"In the name of humanity, why don't the churches turn to the pines and establish churches? It is a dangerous innovation to try to make the government responsible for the religious education of children and parents and the churches to seek to shift their responsibility to the schools."

Mentioning the names of a score of prominent clergymen of various denominations, he said, "I am against the adoption of Amendment No. 17. Dr. Newman said it is time for sectarian trouble-makers to retire from the political arena into their churches."

WIFE KILLS SELF AND BABES

Husband Finds Mother and Two Children Dead in Gas-Filled Room of Home

What remains of the little family of Louis R. Inwood, whose troubled wife closed the room in which their two babies lay sleeping, turned on the gas and with them passed into eternal sleep, will be laid to rest tomorrow in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Mrs. Inwood, with her elder child, Harry, 4½ years of age, returned Sunday afternoon from Chicago and was reunited with her husband and younger child, William Ldw. 2½, in the modest little cottage the young couple owned at 1000 North Santa Avenue, Hollywood.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Inwood told Deputy Sheriff Hanby, he awoke to a realization that Mrs. Inwood had left their bed and gone to the living room, where she was writing. His inquiries, she replied she had thought of some things for tomorrow and wished to write them down. He said she returned to bed.

SMELLS GAS FUMES

At about 6:30 a.m., Mr. Inwood said, his wife was awakened by gas fumes. His wife was missing from her bed. To the sound of a groan, he crashed through its locked door and found them dead, the children in their cots as if asleep and the wife and mother seated in a rocking chair by their sides.

This fascinating bit of news came to light yesterday, when Mr. St. Clair, deeply enthusiastic over the enterprise, discussed it with us. He is, of course, eager to start work on the screen.

Former Associates of Mary Lewis to Hear Her Here in Concert

The Richest Indian in the World, Jackson Barnett, who spends much of his time in and around Los Angeles, is pictured above with his white wife as he appeared last week in New York where guardianship fight trial is scheduled for hearing. (P. & A. photo.)

A Brilliant Career in the legal profession lay ahead of Miss Marie Easby-Smith of Washington, when she entered a convent to become a nun recently. (P. & A. photo.)

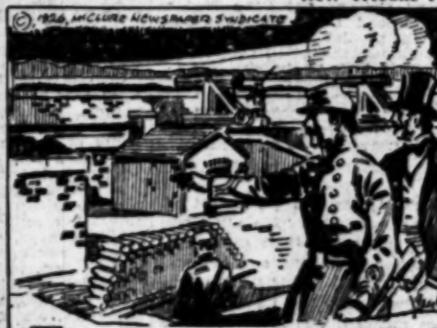

"The Baby Venus of Venice," 14-year-old Thelma Peairs (above) has added further to her laurels at the beach resort by winning the silver loving cup offered in connection with the sales competition of the Policemen's Ball at Venice. (Times Photo.)

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 550

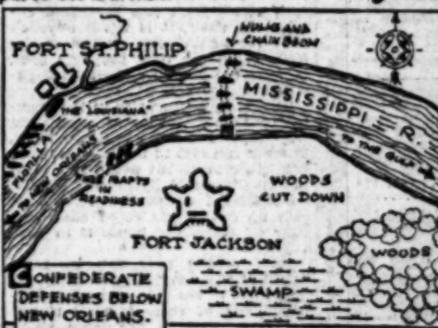

WHEN THE CONFEDERATE AUTHORITIES IN NEW ORLEANS LEARNED THAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WAS SENDING AN EXPEDITION TO CAPTURE THE CITY AND WREST THE CONTROL OF THE LOWER MISSISSIPPI FROM THE CONFEDERACY, THEY MADE HURRIED PREPARATIONS FOR DEFENSE.

These daily history strips make a unique pictorial history of America.

MOST OF THE LOUISIANA REGIMENTS WERE AWAY AT THE FRONT, BUT THERE WAS A FORCE IN NEW ORLEANS UNDER GENERAL LOVELL. THE CHIEF DEFENSES OF THE CITY, HOWEVER, WERE THE STRONG FORTS JACKSON AND ST. PHILIP, WHICH FACED EACH OTHER ACROSS THE MISSISSIPPI SOME 75 MILES BELOW THE CITY AND 30 MILES ABOVE THE MOUTH OF THE RIVER.

THESE FORTS MOUNTED MANY HEAVY GUNS AND EACH WAS GARRISONED BY 700 MEN. JUST BELOW THE FORTS THE RIVER WAS BARRED BY A BOOM OF CHAIN CABLES STRETCHED ACROSS A NUMBER OF ANCHORED HULKS, WHILE UPSTREAM LAY A SMALL FLEET OF RIVER GUNBOATS AND THE RAM "MANASSAS".

TWO GREAT IRONCLADS WERE BEING BUILT IN LOUISIANA SHIPYARDS AND ONE OF THESE, THE "LOUISIANA" (16 GUNS) WAS HURRIEDLY COMPLETED AND PUT IN SERVICE. HER ENGINES PROVED FAULTY AND SHE WAS MOORED NEAR FORT ST. PHILIP TO BE USED AS A STATIONARY FLOATING BATTERY.

NEW ATTACK ON DUNN LAUNCHED

Administration Clique of Bonders Under Fire

McGuire Strikes at Contract Power of Commissioner

Says Work Being Held Up Force "Proper Financing"

Opening fire on the city "administration" ring of surety, bonding and material companies which, it is charged, has been "cutting in" on street paving, sewer, storm-drain and other improvement contracts, President McGuire of the Board of Public Works yesterday charged the majority members of the Board of Public Works to take from Commissioner Dunn control over recommendations as to the award of the contracts.

As a result of a recent motion in the board had been recommended by some of the other members would second President McGuire's motion, which provided that the entire board handle all matters relating to awarding contracts. This system followed for thirty years until fifteen months ago, when the "administration" placed A. W. L. Dunn on the board as commissioner and it was by "administration" order that he was placed in sole charge of new work.

DUNN RETAINED

It was as commissioner in charge of new work that Commissioner Dunn was enabled to have actual supervision of the construction of the West Adams storm-drain resulting in a $300,000 job of paving and $300,000 job of sewer work. Much of the testimony introduced at the City Council's investigation of the West Adams job related to the activities of Commissioner Dunn, who was then in charge of Public Works and Rock and Contractor Peter R. Gadd. After President McGuire refused to approve of the bill for West Adams extras that were being demanded, calling Commissioner Dunn, who has been an acknowledged "boss" of the Cryer administration, it was because of this background that the Mayor did not remove Dunn from the commission, although the Mayor under public pressure refused to obey Parrot's orders to remove President McGuire, and, respectively, to remove Commissioner Dunn to the disgust of Commissioner Dunn.

Following the revelations at the West Adams storm-drain investigations, the Inspector of Public Works was asked to resign, but Commissioner Dunn remained in charge of all bids for new work. That is, when bids for public improvements were opened they were referred to Commissioner Dunn for report and recommendations.

QUEEZED ON BONDS

President McGuire yesterday in introducing his motion sought to remove this authority from Commissioner Dunn and to restore the method of the board in the appointment of Commissioner Dunn. Under President McGuire's motion, as shown by the board records of yesterday's meeting, it is provided that bids be handled by the board of commissioners.

When President McGuire who had relinquished the chair to Commissioner Delaney, introduced his motion, Commissioner Dunn and Commissioner Dunn, and he said, "What's the idea?"

"Well," said President McGuire, "I am not satisfied with the way things are going on. The contractors are being paid who have not put up surety bonds and the bonds that will be issued for the improvement and who is to do the contractor's financing? These improvement bonds are a surety bond, a surety of our business. If the surety bond is a sound, reliable one, that is all we need to know. We don't care who writes the bond, so long as it is good and protects the city and the taxpayers."

"Another thing. In those West Adams and West Jefferson street street improvements, there is a lot went on that was not right."

BOARD SHOULD KNOW

"The entire board should know all about all phases of these public improvements, not just one commissioner. The former plan is to effect for thirty years that the city not have to pay over last payment by it. And there was no delay in awarding contracts to responsible low bidders."

President McGuire was the low bidder for the contract for paving La Brea avenue from Wilshire Boulevard to Wilshire avenue, a $130,000 job, and the bid for which was submitted was $100,000. The low bid was a recommendation yet from Commissioner Dunn. Because of the Mayor's order that there must be "harmony" on the board so as not to offend the administration, it was no second to President McGuire's motion to oust Commissioner Dunn, but at the close of yesterday's meeting, Commissioner Dunn was reluctantly on Contractor Shatto's bid and the contract was awarded to him.

The fireworks yesterday between

President McGuire and Commissioner Dunn were over a period of four weeks at the City Hall, as the result of complaints by contractors that the award of contracts was being held up until the contractors saw fit to demand payment of bonds and financing from the "ring" that is friendly with the "administration."
